Soccer to Aid Anti-Cancer Association

Queen's Birthday Week-end

A request has been received from the Committee of the Anti-Cancer Campaign for the Soccer Association to set aside a match of which the proceeds would be donated to this worthy cause.

THE Association has, therefore, arranged for a lighting Carnival to be played at Olympic Park on Monday, June 16, 1958.

At time of going to Press, details have not been finalised, but will be published in "Soccer News" next week (June 14).

Eight teams from the State League will be invited to participate, and a "knock-out" tournament will commence at 1.30 p.m.

Each match will be 10 minutes each way, and corner kicks will count.

In the event of a draw a coin will be tossed to decide the winners.

The Ground Staff at Olympic Park have already volunteered to provide their services free of charge.

The Trustees of Olympic Park have also approved of the Carnival, and it is therefore anticipated that the entire proceeds will go to the Anti-Cancer Campaign Committee.

So please keep the date in mind — Monday, June 16, 1958, at Olympic Park.

English Footballers for Pay Rise

Professional footballers in the English League were voted an increase recently, and will in future be able to earn £20 sterling a week during the playing season and £17 sterling a week during the summer months.

Present maximum rates are £17 sterling in the playing season and £14 in the summer.

The increase was announced at the annual general meeting of the League, which, by a single vote, defeated a proposal by the League management committee for an all-the-year-round maximum of £20 sterling a week.

Permission was granted to clubs to pay up to £300 to a player transferred at the request of his club. Former limit was a £10 signing-up fee.

The meeting agreed to a proposal to experiment next season with a promotion and relegation system allowing for four-up and four-down in the third and fourth divisions.

Junior Notes

FOLLOWING final trial matches played at Middle Park on Sunday, June 1, 15 boys under 14 years were chosen for the Victorian State Squad to undergo intensive training before meeting N.S.W. later this season: A. Ristic, J. Rogers (goalkeepers); E. J. Vivian, T. Hedley, R. Caithness (full-backs); J. Rossetto, H. Murrcott, J. Molloy, G. Mullen (half-backs); R. Wills, R. G. Wilson, J. Winkler, H. Stirling, S. Culbard, A. Peat (forwards).

Junior Secretaries of Clubs in Under 13, Section B, are requested to note that a new team — Essendon Ascots — will take over the fixtures of South Yarra, commencing on Saturday, June 7. Essendon Ascots' Secretary is L. Glover, 24 Woolley St., Essendon.

It is interesting to note that at the half-way stage in both Under 13 and 15 Sections, the leaders — Essendon (13 and 15), Heidelberg and St. Kilda — retain their leadership with a 100 per cent. record. Brighton, in Section B, are also unbeaten with a match in hand over the leaders, St. Kilda.

Junior Club Secretaries, please note: All results received by the Assistant Secretary on Mondays will appear in the "Sporting Globe" on Wednesdays. All Junior results should be 'phoned to MM 1369 (Mr. Bradshaw) on Saturday evening between 6 p.m. and 7.30 p.m., and all team cards posted immediately after the game to reach the Asst. Secretary by Monday.

★ ★ ★ State Squad

All members of the State Squad are reminded that the final training practice will take place at the Royal Melbourne Showgrounds next Monday, June 9, 1958, at 7.15 p.m.

Coach Should Be Selector

SIR,—I would like to know why the coach of George Cross is not selecting the team himself instead of the Committee, because, in my opinion, the latter are not competent for the position, and the team is suffering by losing points. A great coach like George Cross possesses is quite capable of selecting the Maltese side, also Victorian teams.

I hope the Committee will wake up and leave the team in the hands of Mr. Sendor Paszot (coach), as the supporters would like to see.—Yours, etc.,

F.A. COACHING SCHEME

Practical Education

It was once said that a person with a British passport had the key to all the countries of the world. Today, perhaps, the British passport is not quite what it used to be, but — if I am use a simile — the F.A. Coaching Certificate is as universally recognised as it ever has been.

FOR the man who has sat for, and gained his F.A. Coaching Certificate, Soccer people the world over will greet him heartily, and you will find him in every country on the globe, coaching and advancing the football science of the Soccer code.

Why is the F.A. Coaching Certificate treated so highly?

Simply because the examination standards are set at a very high level. The comprehensiveness of the F.A. Coaching Scheme, the standard of examination, makes the F.A. Coaching Certificate something to be really earned and — not easily.

Take the Practical coaching examination, one of several examinations the candidate has to undergo.

The candidate has to take charge and coach a class of strange boys. He does this three times with a different class of boys each time, and a different assessor on each occasion judges and assesses his ability to pass on his coaching knowledge.

Staff coaches of the coaching scheme have been often asked to list the different items of coaching that the candidate has to pass on to his class of boys in the practical examination.

The list they supplied is far too long for the space allowed in this article, but some of the items the candidate has to pass on to his classes are as follows:

Kicking and Shooting:

1. You are required to take a class of boys in the elementary stages of shooting. How would you begin?

2. How would you set about coaching your class in "shooting on the run?"

3. First give a demonstration of half-volley kicking and then coach your class in the art of using the half-volley.

4. How would you set about coaching your class in "driving with power?"

5. You are required to give your class more confidence in shooting on the volley. How would you do this?

6. Imagine your class to be all full-backs. How would you teach them to clear on the volley?

7. Give your class some realistic "movement drills" or "related practices" which always finish with a hard shot at goal.

8. Coach the class in some "pressure training" in shooting at goal.

9. Demonstrate a chip-kick and then develop practices showing its use in the game.

10. Coach the lofted kick with special reference to its uses in corners and centres from the wing.

Heading:

1. Coach the group on powerful defensive heading, working up to good performance of skill against opposition.

2. Teach the group the art of timing their run-up in order to get more height to their jump.

3. Take deflection heading and its use in game phases.

4. Put a defender in a pressure practice related to constructive use of the ball.

5. Take this group in game phases, showing them when to head for goal and when not.

6. Take forwards on heading down for accuracy.

7. Put a centre-forward under pressure practice heading for goal with inside-forwards alongside to be used if required.

8. Coach the art of cushioning a ball with the head for immediate use by team-mate, and use phases of play where this skill may be needed.

9. Take heading in a backward direction and its use in both defensive and attacking phases.

10. Coach the skill of heading in one direction whilst running in another, using game phases where required.

Tackling and Dribbling:

1. Assume your class are all wingers and teach them a method of varying their pace to deceive opposition.

2. It is often necessary to dribble or manipulate the ball to make room or opportunity to pass. Teach and coach this.

3. Coach the principles of tackling from the side.

4. Your class are too wild in their tackling. Encourage and coach them in positioning themselves to make the position as far as is possible to their advantage.

5. As is common, your forwards do not tackle back. Make this the basis of your session.

6. Teach a method of dribbling that incorporates a feint in its execution.

7. It is obviously an advantage to be able to beat the opposition by dribbling. Teach this class how, why and where, and give the class practice in game situations.

8. Analyse the principles of one particular type of tackle and coach the class in its use.

9. Take a well-known example of "sleight of foot" of a player and teach it to the boys.

10. Teach the class how important it is to interpose the body in dribbling, that is, to "screen" the ball.

Technical Schools Football

Competition matches began on Wednesday last for most schools. A record number of 21 schools are competing this year in the Metropolitan Technical Schools' Soccer Championships. There are three cups to be awarded at the end of the year; the present holders of these are: Coburg, Metropolitan and "North of the Yarra" champions. Brighton, premiers "South of the Yarra."

Schools are competing in four sections, North, South, East and West. These are the results of the matches played on Wednesday, May 28:—

Northern Zone

Coburg, 4, v. Glenroy, 1.
Preston, 4, v. Heidelberg, 3.
Collingwood, bye.
